'All Meat Has Fat In It...'

RECENTLY IN THE eyes of some there has been a decline in what started out as a great idea, unlimited seconds. This belief was rejected, however, by the Professional Food Service manager, Mr. Timothy Kavulla, and his associate, Mr. Martinez. The management feels that these complaints for the most part are unfounded. They sight evidence that more people, even at this late date, are joining the meal plan and they have received phone calls from some parents saying how much of a relief it is to know that my son is eating well.

Many of the complaints concern themselves with decreasing quality, greasy food, too much starch (macaroni, egg noodles, potatoes, and the like), hamburgers and hot dogs every day and buns and rolls that are not fresh. The cafeteria management disagree saying for one thing that it is the Student Senate who requested hamburgers and hot dogs be served every day and that the rolls and buns are made fresh each morning in the cafeteria kitchen. The management, in responding to the charge of an over starchy diet, said it now knows what the students like and will try to offer a hot sandwich, a casserole, and a meat dish at each noon meal. One of the reasons for the hot sandwich as opposed to the cold sandwich, explained Mr. Martinez, is the large rip-off problem where we serve four and five times as many sandwiches as there are people eating. For that reason we cannot afford to serve a cold sandwich.

The gripe over greasy food was met with the response, "All meats have some fat in them even though we try to get as much fat off as is possible some still remains."

Another complaint is over portions. In answer to this, Mr. Martinez stated that in the future portions for meat dishes would become standard. For example, if you receive two pieces of chicken the first time around, you'd receive the same number for the second portion. With dishes such as spaghetti, the first portion would be larger, whereas the second would be smaller.

WITH REGARD TO the quality of the meat served, Mr. Kavulla stated that all the meat is "choice." Asked specifically about last week's pork chops, he said, "It was a bad shipment and after the remaining chops are gone this problem should not recur."

The management commented that last Sunday after breakfast 30 Variety Paks, 12 to a package, had been consumed. That's 360 portions, which means each person ate 12 portions? Mr. Kavulla suggested that the Student Senate and/or Monarch form a Food Committee to bring about communication with the kitchen and students on menus, complaints, and special functions. Both Mr. Kavulla and Mr. Martinez repeated their January 18th statement: "We are here to serve the students, to give them the finest food service within reason."

FOURTEEN MOTIONS, UPON their approval, destined to alter the lives of Saint Leo students will meet their destiny this weekend when the Board of Trustees of Saint Leo College make the first of two annual visits.

The motions, fathered by Pat Seery, President of the Student Government Association, with assistance from Bill Callahan and Jim Biondi, were first presented to the Executive Board of Student Government and met with their approval.

On Thursday, February 1, the motions were presented and discussed in the Student Senate. Every motion was heavily supported, twelve were without negative vote.

A campaign to inform the student body followed, which included visits by student leaders to the dorms to discuss various problems of student life.

THE MOTIONS WERE presented to Sister Lucy Faciane and Dr. Thomas Southard for action, but no action has been taken.

Mr. Thomas Welstead, Student Affairs Representative of Board of Trustees, will be present on a committee that will meet tomorrow at 11 a.m. with Student Affairs personnel to discuss the motions.

Final action on the proposals is expected to be decided at the major Board meeting Saturday.

Letters To The Editor

Women Need Security

The current policy regarding women residents' hours translates to read: any female, regardless of age, intelligence, or maturity, but living on campus and having 0-30 credit hours, plus two freshman physical education courses, is not eligible to regulate her own hours and must conform to the hours stated in the Student Handbook.

Illogical? - Certainly!
Discriminatory? - Definitely!
Well, what's being done about it?

Realizing that the Board of Trustees are extremely busy in other interests and could have possibly overlooked the slight irregularity of the aforementioned policy, we feel it is our obligation to assist in bringing to light this oversight and possibly help to alleviate the problem in the future.

We realize also that the creation of a "worthy image" with which to sell Saint Leo is among their priorities. But how do they expect to sell our Institution in 1973 with a policy based on 1873 thought?

Women have fought hard to cast aside the shackles of discrimination and it is appropriate that they be exempt from that insidious curfew.

Let us not maintain useless, archaic systems of protecting our lovely young ladies, but let us light the paths which link them with their future.

The Board is not to be blamed for its cautious pace, for it is evident that one so disassociated from the lives they govern could quite easily err occasionally. Knowing this, we request that the Board accept the President of the S.G.A. as a "Student Trustee," so that he may serve to bridge the gap and give the Board a greater perspective on student needs. And may they suggest that he also attend Presidential Staff meetings, so that he in turn can better inform his constituents.

Since our eagerness to assist in the growth of Saint Leo is boundless, perhaps we can resolve another problem. A recent request for refrigerators in the dorms was denied the students due to a contractual agreement. Since that was the only obstacle prohibiting Sister Lucy's program, let us omit that inhibiting clause from any future negotiations.

Also, we request that a section of a dorm be made living quarters for 21 year old males, giving them the rights and responsibilities granted any other citizen of Florida.

Acceptance of this proposal would display a trust in our older men and a reaffirmation of the belief in the development of our students. A denial would admit, conversely, that in the eyes of the Trustees the future products of this Institution are not yet capable of handling the responsibilities of our society.

The above are but a few of the issues that will be debated during the Board's visit to Saint Leo. We only hope that the members look upon the students as responsible young adults and legislate accordingly and not let their decisions be dictated by unrealistic ideals nor greed.

Dear Editor,

WHEN I FIRST arrived on campus, I was under the impression that security was supposed to provide rides for girls who are stranded on the other side of campus. About two weeks ago another girl and I went to security to ask for a ride across campus. A security guard informed me that they are not supposed to take us across campus. My question is, if they aren't going to take us back, then what about installing sufficient lighting?

Sincerely yours,
Fran Frank, Alice Roscor,
Debbie Muscarella

Encounter Deadline Approaches

THE 1973-74 EDITION of "The Encounter" is set for distribution among the student body the first week in April. Deadline for submission of literary and art work is March 1.

For the first time, "The Encounter" will not only be a reflection of the creative talents from students and faculty of Saint Leo College, it will also be helping the environment. The year's edition is being printed by the Saint Leo Press on smooth finished recycled paper.

"The Encounter" will be approximately 24 pages long... but we cannot publish a magazine of this length if you people do not submit items for publication. All student and faculty work consisting of prose and poetry, art work, and photography is welcome.

Please submit all work to Editor, Colleen Duffy, in "The Encounter" office, room 114, St. Edward Hall, or in the SGA office. If no one is in either office, just slip your work under the door. We'll be sure to get them and you may just see your work in print this April.

Dear Editor,

UPON OUR ARRIVAL at Saint Leo, the freshman women were informed that security would provide rides for the females left on campus, without a ride, at night. We were also told that we might have to wait up to a half hour for these rides, but no longer than that.

Due to the insufficient lighting on the path leading from the main campus to the women's side of campus, many women began to worry about traveling back to the dorm after 10 p.m. at night. For this reason they began to go to security for rides.

In some cases rides were provided, but in many cases security failed to provide rides or an escort to walk them to the women's side.

We are now asking, what exactly is security's policy? If they do not provide rides for the women students at night, then may we suggest that the board of trustees fund money for a better lighting system from the women's side to the main campus.

Sincerely,
Lara Hamill, Mary Flemming,
Christine Ceccolini, Janet Quirk

Dear Editor,

IN YOUR LAST issue you spoke of being nourished; yours is not the only neck slashed by the financial ax. Yet, I speak of nourishment in another sense foreign to Saint Leo students.

Theatre students spend between 90 and 120 hours in rehearsal for each play. That is five to six nights a week for six weeks! The students build their own sets, collect props, make costumes, silk screen programs and posters, run lights and perform in plays. These students work needlessly.

Student attendance at theatre productions is embarrassing. With free admission to students, careful selection of plays, and performance dates changed for the convenience of the campus population, it is outrageous that the cast performs to a room of partially empty chairs.

Performers cannot achieve their goals without an objective and interested audience. Is it useless for me to mention there is a play in production?

Marion Ruffing Leaving

Mrs. Marion Ruffing will be leaving Saint Leo College in June when her contract is up. She will work part time, however, until this time. She works as Supervisor of Records and Head of Admission Processing. Thus, she is in contact with every student here at this school at one time or the other. She loves her work here but nevertheless strives to new ventures.

After working here for six years, Mrs. Ruffing is going to open a business of her own in Dade City. She has a two year degree in business and was awarded twice (while here in 1970 and in 1971) for appreciation.

Her new business will take the form of a "Frontier Shop" having available clothing like ranch wear, western and casual, Lees and Levis.

She also has a son Boone, seven years old, and her philosophy is to "live and let live; life is a precious gift and must be utilized to the best of our abilities."

(From the writer of the article, Therese Mitchell): I wish you the best in your new venture and much success.

WOMEN LEARN TO defend themselves: Classes in self defense began last Monday evening at 7 p.m. The turnout was a good number of about thirty women of all ages, eager to defend themselves whenever the need arises.

Six more weeks of classes. They are held in Snyder basement, taught by Mr. Foster, former Black Belt Karate champion.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE WOMEN'S BASKETBALL TEAM!

Even though they lost their first game it was a tremendously well played one. The score was 22-23. Play harder, girls. You can win. The game was played in Lakeland at Florida Southern College. No excuse for losing mind you, but I'm sure that if we had played at home and were cheered on by the most wonderful Saint Leo fans, we would have gotten the winning point. The next game will be held at home. Hope to see you all there.

A.W.S. NEWS

We all extend our congratulations to the new executive board members. They are: Claudia Waldrep, Vice President; Jeanette Viggiana, Junior Judge; Pat Hennenian, Sophomore Judge; Jolie Muning, Freshman Judge.

The legislative board meets on Tuesday at 5:30 p.m., and the senate will meet every other Wednesday at 5:30. Plans for second semester include a Spring Fashion Show aiding in the plan of a Women's Athletic Week. Also included are inquiries concerning possible changes in the freshman curfew and visitation on the women's side of campus.

GET TO KNOW SAINT LEO'S SECRETARIES AND STAFF!

Upon interviewing Pat Rozar, I found her pleasant to converse with. Her husband, Luthor Rozar, is a County Extension Agent. Mr. and Mrs. Rozar have three lovely children: Bob 17, Andy 15, and Amy 12. Mrs. Rozar has worked at Saint Leo for seven years as secretary for the Division of Social Science her first one and one-half years and as Dr. Peterson's secretary for the remaining years to the present time. She really enjoys her work and the students. Besides work, Mrs. Rozar enjoys sewing, reading and singing.

MS. FRANCES MARTIN was a Benedictine nun at the Priory for 15 years. She felt this not to be her ultimate vocation and left to work at Saint Leo College. Before becoming a nun Frances was a college graduate, graduating with a master's degree in sociology from Notre Dame University and another master's degree from New York University in personnel work in higher education.

Here at Saint Leo, she has many jobs and posts as: assistant professor, chairman of sociology and social work programs, faculty advisor for student government.

She also serves on the Professional Standards Committee. This Floridian from Lake Wales likes the warmth of the professors, students, and other persons here at Saint Leo.

Neil Young Review

by Craig Harrison

THE NEIL YOUNG concert held in Bayfront Center, St. Petersburg, on February 3 at 7:30 was just a fabulous concert.

Neil Young came out alone, dressed in a flannel shirt, jeans, and work boots, to do a few songs from the album "Harvest." His apparel seemed to relate to that type of casual music he writes.

The Stray Gators band, consisting of bass, drums, steel guitar, and pianist who switches to the slide guitar on a few songs, came out to join Neil. They then played a few songs from "Harvest," and did many of their favorites that seemed to thrill the audience. Before the encore they did "Cinnamon Girl" and "Southern Man." These songs were played with power and enthusiasm which seemed to reach out to the people.

They capped a terrific performance by rewarding the crowd with two tremendous encores.

IN OBSERVING THE crowd at the end of the concert and listening to their comments, they seemed to have concluded, along with myself, that the Neil Young concert was one of the finest experienced.

St. Leo Improving Health Center

MANY STUDENTS ARE unaware and apprehensive about using the Saint Leo Health Center on campus. The Health Center is centrally located between the men's and the women's dorms, adjacent to Carmel Hall. Much to the students' surprise there is a doctor on duty there one day per week. His service is offered free of charge on Mondays from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. by appointment. The Health Center is also open, under the direction of Brother Peter, Mondays through Fridays from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m., and on Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. When students must be quarantined, the center is open around the clock.

It is rumored that many students are afraid to take the physician into their confidence for fear that all the information will be eventually relayed to their parents. The administration has assured that all information given by the students is strictly confidential. The service to the students is completely free, with the exception of prescriptions or lab tests.

There is an urgent need on every campus and college across the country for adequate medical facilities and it is obvious that the facility on campus is growing to be an efficient and complete service. This fact is exemplified by the control the Health Center has had over the recent measles outbreak. So take advantage of this service so that it will flourish and become recognized as an adequate facility. It is important to you.

- 18. Cocaine's effects are that of a
 - a. stimulant
 - b. depressant
 - c. narcotic

- 25. The most physically addicting is
 - a. nutmeg
 - b. tobacco
 - c. marijuana

- 20. b (a secret military weapon). STP(DOM), chemically related to mescaline and speed, was originally developed as a weapon to instill fear in the enemy. Anyone who has ever had a large dose will vouch for the accuracy of the original idea.

Answers

- 19. Tryptamine is the base of
 - a. MMDA
 - b. STP
 - c. DMT
- 20. STP(DOM) was originally developed as a
 - a. therapy for treating certain mental illnesses
 - b. secret military weapon
 - c. commercial drug for use in small doses only
- 21. The drug that originally helped keep German and Japanese soldiers in a killing mood during WW II is known today as
 - a. amyl nitrate
 - b. secobarbital
 - c. speed
- 22. The drug which has been traditionally used in American Indian religious ceremonies is known today as
 - a. mescaline
 - b. peyote
 - c. marijuana
- 23. Which of these substances is NOT commonly found in street acid?
 - a. lysergic wastes
 - b. strychnine
 - c. real LSD
- 24. Opium in the Western world is most commonly
 - a. smoked
 - b. eaten
 - c. ground and sniffed

- 17. a (hallucinogenic). Morning Glory Seeds are rated in the psychedelic category, and were first used several hundred years ago by South American civilizations. They contain lysergic acid amide, an alkaloid derivative about one-tenth as potent as LSD. There are 15 varieties of seeds, ranging in potency. Most seed companies now coat their seeds with a toxic substance designed to discourage ingestion.
- 18. a (stimulant). Cocaine is not really a narcotic, though so classified under the Harrison Narcotic Act. Its effects are like that of other stimulants, in that it elevates the mood, suppresses hunger and relieves fatigue for short term durations. Because the cocaine trip is so short, repeated doses may eventually cause toxic poisoning and perforated cartilage in the nostrils.
- 19. c (DMT) - or dimethyltryptamine, creates effects similar to other lysergics but of shorter duration. In liquid form it is often dropped on tobacco, dried parsley or other smokable substances (even marijuana). Tryptamine is the chemical family from which LSD, DMT, DET, Bufotenin and psilocybin are all derived.

- 21. c (speed). The base of most amphetamine preparations used today was developed during World War II to keep soldiers awake and in a fighting mood. Over 250,000 people alone in Japan after the war were injecting speed daily.
- 22. b (peyote) - is made from the peyote cactus. Mescaline is an alkaloid found in peyote, and used to denote the synthetic preparation.
- 23. b (strychnine). Even though street acid is seldom pure, it rarely contains strychnine. Strychnine, a poison, is still falsely thought to be in many psychedelics. Recent analysis seems to indicate that it is mis-synthesis of the drug itself which is causing many bad reactions.
- 24. a (smoked). Opium, a dreamy, sleepy drug, is made from a variety of poppies. (Remember the poppy fields in the Wizard of Oz?) It is addicting if smoked in sufficient amounts, though it is rarely found in large quantities in the Western World.
- 25. b (tobacco). With quite a long list of detrimental factors, smoking tobacco has proven to be more of a menace than it's worth. And it's addicting. What more can be said?

Bob Griese and Carl Noonan, who visited Saint Leo, are being shown the facilities by Mr. Alan Powers. The Monarch interviewed the two football players while they were here on campus.

Monarch Interviews

Super Bowl Stars

BOB GRIESE, THE winning Super Bowl quarterback, visited the Saint Leo campus on an inspection tour for a proposed sports camp. Carl Noonan, a fellow teammate and partner in the football camp, accompanied Mr. Griese on the trip. The proposed sports camp will be for children 8-16 years old and will be on campus for two weeks this summer.

Following a short meeting with the Public Relations director, Alan Powers, they went directly to the Public Relations Office. After their meeting, they toured the campus along with Mr. Powers. The group saw the cafeteria, Lee Marvin dorm, Marion Bowman Activity Center, Selby Auditorium, and then returned to Mr. Powers' office for further negotiations.

The undefeated Miami Dolphins had a tough battle on their hands going up against the NFC's leading ground gainer, Larry Brown. Asked whether they keyed on Larry Brown, Carl Noonan replied, "Naturally we had to stop their little man, but Washington is such a balanced team that we couldn't key on one guy."

Bob Griese, who was injured in the fifth game of the season, had only played a game and a half going into the Super Bowl. Earl Morrall stepped in and took Miami into the playoffs undefeated. Mr. Griese was asked if he had a lot of pressure on him to break back into the starting lineup and he stated, "There was no pressure on me because Earl was doing so well. I had time to get my ankle in shape and slowly break into the starting lineup."

THE TWO WEEK layoff between the playoffs and the Super Bowl ultimately had to benefit the Washington team. It also had some effect on Miami. Carl Noonan was asked if the playoff was too long and he said, "No, it helped our team. We had some injuries that had to heal up and we needed some rest." One of the big injuries that needed some time to heal was Bob Griese's broken ankle.

After Miami had won 17 straight games, Mr. Noonan related, "We have to be rated near the top. Nobody has ever won 17 straight games before." Being undefeated is something that has never happened before in modern football history. Naturally the poorer teams get psyched to the sky when they play the better teams. Mr. Noonan said, "We didn't have too much trouble. We had to play them one by one, especially toward the end of the season."

Don Shula, the first coach to win 100 games in his first ten years as a coach, has to be the main reason for their success. Bob Griese was asked whether Don Shula stresses offense or defense in practice and he said, "Don played defense in college, but he knows all phases of the game."

Also, for a local point of interest, Mr. Griese was asked if Tampa will be the next expansion team in the NFL and he said, "It is too soon to tell. It could be either Tampa or Seattle. Seattle looks good to me."

DESPITE SHOUTS OF obscenities from the Washington fans in the nearby dorms, Mr. Griese and Mr. Noonan were warmly welcomed to a place where celebrities are seldom seen.

Monarchs Hit Low Point Of Season

The Monarchs before last Tuesday's game had been plagued with second half problems and a lack of efficiency late in the game. This is not typical of Norm Kaye basketball teams which had been noted for playing the full 40 minutes. Kaye's action of pulling starter Jim Kiley from an earlier game and suspending him has caused some friction among members of the team. This had led to some breakdown of morale.

Against Ferris State College of Grand Rapids, Michigan, a team ranked 10th in the country in the NAIA, the smaller Monarchs led 36 to 32 at halftime, but sagged in the second half as the 17-2 Bulldogs ran away from the outnumbered Monarchs. In the second half the Monarchs shot 40 per cent from the field and this added to numerous turnovers gave the Bulldogs a 70 to 59 victory. The Monarchs in the past folded in the late goings as the pressure and tension built up.

Against the Bethune Cookman Wildcats, last Saturday night at Daytona Beach, the Monarchs took a 24 to 13 lead to the dressing room. After leading the 14-5 Wildcats by 11 points, they immediately proceeded to degenerate into uselessness, as the fast breaking black team overhauled the Monarchs, to win by the score of 64 to 41. Bethune scored more points in the second half than the Monarchs scored all night. Numerous turnovers, many mistakes, and no Monarch player in double figures added to the embarrassment of the loss.

The taller and more experienced Wildcats did sport one of the best players in Florida, the 6'11 Jim Perry who is averaging close to 32 points a game. From the field the Monarchs shot 35 per cent on 20 of 56 shots, and only made 1 of 2 foul shots in the game.

Frank Lawrence looks on as the rest of the Monarchs fight for a rebound in a game against Ferris State.

Tennis Team Hopes For Bright Future

THE SAINT LEO tennis team will begin its season next Monday, February 19. The team will go up against tough Florida Southern. When the Monarch Sports Interviewer asked Coach Crosby to speculate on the performance of the rather young team's upcoming season he said, "We're going to win as many as we can." Last year against Florida Southern we lost, but as Crosby pointed out, "The team lost their one, two, and three singles players, and we're looking for a close match."

The team is young and energetic says Crosby and he is employing new coaching techniques. Upon interviewing Coach Crosby, he was video taping the entire team's forehand and backhand strokes in order to

Among the four freshmen on the team is a promising youngster playing in first position, Pete Kuhlman. Pete is on a basketball scholarship and works out with the tennis team whenever he has a chance. Originally from Cincinnati, Ohio, Pete resides in Fort Mitchell, but has a long record of high school achievement from his school in Cincinnati. He was the number one tennis player in the greater Cincinnati league and also a member of the all star team in basketball. When Monarch reporter asked Pete what he thought of the coaching staff, he replied, "I consider all the coaches to be good and intelligent coaches." Saint Leo is really looking for an outstanding performance from Pete this season.

Saturday, 24, the tennis team has a match against Eckerd College, but this will be an away game. If you are looking for pre-season action, the team will be having a practice match, Saturday, 17.

Nate Crawford Finds A New Home

NATE CRAWFORD, STAR forward of the Saint Leo Monarch basketball team, resides in nearby Tarpon Springs where he played his high school ball. While at Tarpon High, Nate averaged 22.7 points a game, along with lettering in baseball and football. His career proceeded to Marion Institute, a junior college in Alabama, where he was the first black ever to graduate. Crawford led his team last year with an average of 18.6, but came to Saint Leo this year because he wanted to be back in Florida where his family could see him play.

Nate likes it here at Saint Leo and adds, "There is a different atmosphere here than at Marion. Marion is a military oriented school with little freedom. Here, I have a lot more freedom. I had to get used to all of this freedom, but I think I can handle it now." At the present time he is majoring in sociology and when his tenure here is up, he would like to work in the division of youth service and help underprivileged people.

Nate Crawford goes up for a shot against Ferris State.

Commenting on this year's schedule, Nate labeled it "Real Stiff," and said, "I don't like to play an easy schedule and beat everybody. I like a tough schedule where you don't win all of the time."

Playing for the Monarchs this

11 points a game and is a member of the starting squad. He likes his coach's philosophy about the game and he gets along well with his teammates. Crawford has been engaged for about three weeks and will be married on July 8.

Monarchs Blitz

Florida Tech

THE SAINT LEO Monarchs, erratic as always, handily defeated the Knights of Florida Technological University, last Tuesday night in Orlando, by the score of 110 to 82 for their ninth win in twenty games. In the biggest point output of the 1972-73 season, the Monarchs dominated both the offensive and defensive backboards as they overwhelmed the 17-7 Knights who along with Eckerd College and Florida Southern are looking for 1973 NCAA Small College Basketball Playoff bids.

The smaller Monarchs, fighting to get to the .500 won-lost record, played aggressively on defense and placed six men in double figures. The scoring was like this:

- Jim Kiley 23 points
- Nate Crawford 18 points
- Alan Hengesbach 17 points
- Mike Arnold 16 points

- Frank Lawrence 16 points
 - Guillermo Cancio-Bello 14 points
 - John Conley 4 points
 - John Kotznecklick 2 points
- Missouri State College, Catholic University, and Saint Mary's College of Maryland.

In the second half the Monarchs outscored F.T.U. 62-42 to win only their second game in eight tries on the road. The 7-5 home won-lost record is respectable since the Monarchs have four home games remaining on their schedule. Games against Florida Southern on Feb. 20, Florida Inst. of Technology on Feb. 24, Birmingham Southern on Feb. 17, and the Athletes in Action on March 3.

The Monarchs travel to Deland on Feb. 22 to take on the Rollins College Tars, a team which defeated the Monarchs last week by the score of 115 to 47.

NCAA Cuts Scholarships

Number of Athletic Scholarships Cut

(CPS) - THE NATIONAL Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) has limited for the first time the number of athletic scholarships awarded universities or colleges.

The NCAA governs many intercollegiate sports at many U.S. universities and colleges. The association voted to limit the number of awards in football to 105, and in basketball to 18. Thirty football grants and six basketball grants will be awarded to first year and transfer students, and the rest will go to sophomore and upperclass students.

Prior to the NCAA's decision, there had been no limits on the number of scholarships awarded athletes, and no limits set by individual institutions or conferences.

The NCAA also rejected a proposal to grant scholarships on the basis of need and scholarship. To qualify for financial aid or competition, a high school senior previously had to prove that he or she would be able to achieve a 1.6 grade point average (on a 4.0 scale) in college. The regulation now allows a student to qualify if he or she has a C high school average.
